WE NOMINATE

Archibald Lamont Daniels, one of the inspirational teachers of his time, who this week after some four decades of dedicated service to college-bound youngsters, "graduates" with The Hun School Class of 1955 and enters upon what he terms a "whole new series of adventures." While retirement never comes easily—particularly to a man endowed with "teaching magic"—Daniels, reverently known as "Doc" by hundreds of aspiring and perspiring mathematics students, is counting the weeks until he and his wife (a brilliant Yale-trained pathologist) settle in their new home on the northeastern tip of Cuba where they hope to help farmers in the undeveloped Province of Oriente assimilate some of the know-how of modern-day agriculture.

Vermont-born, the son of the Chairman of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Vermont, Daniels took his bachelor's degree at Vermont in 1907, accumulated funds for graduate study by teaching in a Massachusetts secondary school and in 1912 qualified for his Yale doctorate in mathematics. He was instructing in Yale's Sheffield Scientific School when called here to Princeton University in 1914 during the heyday of Dean Henry Burchard Fine. Daniels held forth for a year in the University's Department of Mathematics and in 1915 joined the remarkable faculty that made John Gale Hun's Princeton Tutoring School, the forerunner of The Hun School, one of the educational phenomena of the 1920's and 1930's.

With the exception of the two World Wars, Daniels has since been continuously associated with Hun and has made time for doing things in his own distinctive way. For instance, some 23 years ago, assisted by his wife and part-time specialists, he built their own "telephone-less" house on Mt. Lucas Road. During the first war, he taught at the Kent School, Kent, Conn., and in the second conflict played an infinitely more dramatic role, teaching navigation to personnel assigned to the Pan-American Air Ferries, gaining first-hand experience as a navigator (in his late 50's) on airplane ferry "runs" from Brazil to North Africa and later serving under contract to the Army as a civilian chief flight instructor.

Describing himself and Mrs. Daniels (retiring this summer after 21 years as Associate Professor of Pathology in the School of Medicine of the State University of New York) as a "couple of Yale boys interested in just about everything," Daniels talks enthusiastically of a future that includes sailing, fishing, writing and swimming, as well as farming. His mention of "writing a textbook or two," or of showing others how to "raise a few things properly," stirs memories of a career which has been highlighted by such unusual remarks as "You never resent being flunked by Doc Daniels," or "No matter what the grades may be, everybody loves the Doc."

For minimizing whatever tangible rewards there might be in teaching and insisting, "When you think you have given something to a boy, it gives you a wonderful lift;" for being the kind of teacher men "remember and appreciate;" for knowing that knowledge exists only to be imparted to others; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

The Way to a Man's Heart. The letter began: "Pssssst! Hey Kids! Want to be a cowboy for a whole weekend? A r e a l, honest-to-goodness Princeton cowboy?

"You'll get a special orange and black cowboy shirt to wear and straw cowboy hat. You'll have pony rides and swimming parties and softball games and treasure hunts and magic shows and cokes and hot dogs and popcorn. You'll have a wonderful, wonderful time."

The pressure was on—and was being applied by the past masters at selling "the best old place of all." The letter went, not to alumni who might still be undecided about coming back to reunions, but to their children, carefully addressed by name and with every young member of the family included. In this case, it was the work of the Class of 1935 Reunion Committee beating the drum for its 20th, but its novel approach was symbolic of the new outlook on Princeton reunions: persuade pop by having the rest of the family insist that he bring them back.

Earlier this spring, 1935 had sent every wife in the class a perfumed letter from Paris outlining for her the gaiety ahead. In the event the head of the family was still on the fence, the follow-up letter has been dispatched to all children—with the thought in mind that if they're not yet old enough to read, its contents may be persuasive to the paternal parent anyway.

Promised a weekend of such joyous activities, plus "a big brass band (the c h a m p i o n 80-piece Drum and Bugle Corps from Garfield, N. J.) to march behind to the Yale-Princeton baseball game," and their own headquarters at the picturesque Columbus Boychoir School, chances were that many an eager recipient of the letter was taking the reunion committee's advice. "Don't let Daddy forget. Talk it up, keep after him. Don't take no for an answer."

With a week to go before The Big Weekend (each Princeton class stages a major production once every five years), there was an unconfirmed report that 1935's reunion committee was wondering how many more telegrams of this nature it might receive:

"Sorry Dad can't make it. Mom not coming either, but my two brothers and little sister and I are arriving early Thursday for the whole weekend."

tion asking voter approval for an estimated bond issue of $695,000 on June 23.

(See page 5 for sketches of Littlebrook and the Valley Road addition, with description furnished by John K. White, chairman of the building committee.)

Still pending is state approval from the commissioner of education to extend the school district's borrowing capacity. The board's position on the urgent need for the school was contained in a statement this week by Mrs. F. H. Nicoll, board president. The statement in part:

"The projected building program is already overdue. For several years, the rising birth figures and extensive building activity in the Township, with attendant increased enrollment in the schools, have forecast a seriously overcrowded condition in the schools.

"In the opinion of the Board of Education, this condition now exists. Stony Brook School, housing well over 100 kindergarten children in two sessions, will be running far over satisfactory capacity during the 1955-1956 school year, if enrollments continue toward the predicted number.

"The Board is being forced to consider using the bagement playroom for a classroom, although this type of room is usually rated substandard by the State because of being below grade.

"At Valley Road School, the large enrollment has resulted in the excellent special facilities, such as the art room, the music room and the manual arts room, being used as classrooms, which eliminates or greatly curtails their special function.

"Without the addition of two rooms to Valley Road School, as previously discussed, by September of 1955, the dental unit must be dismantled and moved to a small room unusable as a classroom, and an uppergrade class must be quartered in the library. Under this arrangement, grades one through five will be dependent on such library privileges as can be provided for them in their classrooms.

"There is no further source, without new building, for additional classrooms needed in subsequent years, as all "special" rooms will have been converted to classrooms, with attendant impoverishment of the educational program."

In conjunction with the board's proposal, the voter service committee of the League of Women Voters has reminded registered voters that absentee ballots may be obtained by writing the assistant secretary of the board, Norman J. Anderson, 223 Mt. Lucas Road. Reasons for being absent should be stated and application must be made at least seven days prior to the election.

Also in West Windsor, School expansion will also be up for West Windsor Township school district approval this month. The special election date is Tuesday, June 28, with voting from 7 to 9 p. m. at Town Hall, Dutch Neck, and the Penns Neck Community House.

The West Windsor board has proposed a ten-classroom and library addition to the school at Dutch Neck and modernization and kitchen construction at Penns Neck. The project gained the unanimous approval of the township planning board.

The board's plan was presented by a committee of Walter Conover Jr., chairman; Francis Ward, James C. Sandilos, superintendent of schools; and Maurice Hawk. Additional support for the plans has been received in the form of a resolution

The Consumer Dollar

"We find that in 1953 the effective buying income of the families in Princeton was 62.5% greater than the families in Mercer County and 57.4% greater than the state." The quote is from "A Study of the Central Business District" prepared for the Borough Planning Board.

The report covers a wide variety of subjects concerned with the economic life of the Borough, with obvious implications for the Township. For details, see page 20.

It's New to Us

Kitchen Trousseau. Brides are supposed, traditionally, to be culinary illiterates. But the bride lucky enough to find herself with a casserole, salad bowl or blendor from the Princeton Gourmet will find that she is a good cook without half trying.

A two-quart casserole, for example, is ovenproof and handsome enough for service. A deep rounded square, it is dull black with a lemon yellow top that can be turned over and used as a serving dish. (You may have white instead of yellow, and turquoise or sand instead of black).

A salad bowel, also squarish, matches the casserole, and there is a good wide platter, too. All these pieces, even the salad bowl, are oven-proof. Prices begin at $3.60 from the bowl, and got up to $6 for the platter.

A lifetime gift would be the Danish iron cook pot, shaped like a blunt spade, with a detachable inlaid wooden handle. The handle fits into the pot, and also into the pot-lid so that you can use the pot-lid for a frying pan, if you turn it upside down.

It sounds topsy-turvy, but is really quite simple. Comes in shiny black or olive green, and the price is $14.50 for one and one-half quarts.

Chemex coffee makers are new to the shop at 180 Nassau. Buy one for $4.50 in the pint size or a half-gallon giant for $9.50. It may be used as a carafe, if coffee is made in something else.

Notsjo of Finland exports to us some ringing crystal glassware, shaped like a cone with the point sliced off. The glasses come in such lambent colors as smoke, turquoise, or olive green, with a matching mixer for martinis. The set of six glasses is $8.95, the mixer $4.50. (Let us have no rude jokes about Finnishing the martini.)

The Finns also send, curiously enough, some little chalk-white covered bowls for French pot de creme. They are plain, at $1.15 each. For Germany, the Gourmet has a set of German crystal and steel salt and pepper shakers at $3.95. A matching pepper mill is $6.95.

Remember the Japanese cast-iron frying pan shaped like a fish? Several minnows in the school now: Little four-inchers to use for individual bakers, or as ash-trays. They are $1.50 each.

Beach-combers will welcome a portable blendor that runs on a battery and costs $9.95. Use it on a boat, in a summer cottage or at home, for that matter. Another portable summer fixture is a grill, incredibly priced at $6.95.

It has a two-foot grill, with trays extending on each side, sliding trays underneath, and hinges that fold it all up like a road map. A more permanent big brother is the brazier with copper tubing for legs and a winch to raise or lower the grill. Stands two feet tall and costs $22.50.

Drop Dead. Who wants a live moth? Or its larvae? These unloved creatures of the animal world are repelled effectively by the moth-proofing set-up they have at Verbeyst on Tulane Street.

If you ask for it, your garment will be moth-proofed free of charge, a treatment that insures against moths for six months. Silver-fish, too, and they'll eat the buttons right off a shirt, with any encouragement at all.

We peered into a vat of this moth stuff in the Verbeyst plant, and all we can say is, no moth should live so long. Doesn't hurt your clothes at all, of course.

If you prefer, Verbeyst will store garments at the plant on Tulane where they have a fumigating vault that's only two year old—newest and most up-to-date arrangement you could possibly imagine. Another alternative is a paper moth-bag, which Verbeyst will provide for your home storage. Plastic bag, too, if that is your preference.

Clothes are cleaned before moth-proofing, by Verbeyst's petroleum cleaning process, one that is unique because it uses a soft fluid that leaves clothes and fabrics in a pliable state.

Cool Dad. Keeping Father's Day in mind (third Sunday in June, falling this year on June 19) why not pay a visit to Lahey's, 150 Nassau St., and examine the large collection of cool shirts? Arrow makes them, in a weave called skip-dent. This is really a stripe of thick-and-thin fabric, sometimes wide, sometimes small, that makes a shirt the breeze can play around in.

Conventional business shirts in skip-dent are white, ice-blue, tan, and a pale mint green. They are priced at $3.95. There are also sports shirts in the same weave, also from the Arrow house.

Here's one for seersucker fans—a white sports shirt dotted with big gold or grey Roman coins. But perhaps the coin motif is too suggestive for Father's Day.

If so, look at the wide plaids in soft shades of charcoal, lavender and blue . . . not all on the same shirt! A solid color, charcoal, navy or brown, has tiny blocks, like confetti, strewn irregularly on its surface. Then there's a shirt with a muted line

Art for All—Part II "Art in the Supermarket," . . . "Barber Shops to Show the Poem of Modern Art". . . . such were the front-page reactions of The New York Times and Philadelphia Inquirer to the announcement of the first annual Princeton Merchants' Exhibition which opened this week with 21 Princeton shops and professional offices displaying original contemporary paintings valued in excess of $25,000.

The exhibition, planned by Larom B. Munson, director of The Little Gallery and jointly sponsored by the Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce and TOWN TOPICS, also struck the fancy of the nation's news services and caught the eye of a number of New Jersey publications, including The Newark News, which used a two-column headline in calling attention to "Art for the Shopper".

Editors delightedly pounced on the particular facet of the show appealing to them most. The Inquirer, for instance, unaware at the time that Jack Honore's Barber Shop would provide the setting for the late great John Marin's "From Flint Island," suggested this possibility:

"After Andre the barber settles most of the world's affairs and yet must trim a little more off the top he can fill in his time-slot with a discussion of Georgia O'Keefe, Ben Shahn, John Marin and others."

The Inquirer, waxing a bit more philosophical about the exhibition as a whole, concluded "But the 'I - don't - know - art - but - I - know - what - I - like' school still will decide whether salami, hair tonic, pliers and oil paintings can mix with happy artistic results".

In connection with the exhibition, plans were being carried forward here for a public showing (before the display closes on June 15) of a 20-minute documentary, "Land of Enchantment", devoted to New Mexico's Georgia O'Keefe. Produced under the auspices of the U. S. Department of State, the documentary was "shot" by the distinguished camera crew recently honored with an Academy Award for its filming of "On the Waterfront".

Those who have asked about the title of Ben Shahn's oil, "Cybernetics", should note that the preliminary sketches for this important work, depicting scientists' concern with the possibility "that machines will take over the work of many men's minds just as they have taken over the work of many men's hands," were done here at the Institute for Advanced Study.

In the eventuality that the Merchants' Exhibition results in a sale, any and all local commissions will be donated to the Princeton Community Chest, for the show is designed to bring Princeton into every-day contact with the work of some of America's foremost contemporary artists and is in no sense a commercial venture.

Polio Situation Static. The picture on polio vaccination remained unchanged as of Wednesday of this week pending final release of the vaccine on hand by higher authorities.

Still current was the report that the vaccine might be released immediately, so that plans in the Township and Borough for injecting first and second graders could go into action. The approaching end of the school year poses still another problem for mass innoculation if the vaccine is not released in time. In Newark, for example, a definite postponement until October 1 has been announced.

Ross Receives Nomination. Donald Ross of 35 Shady Brook Lane has been nominated by President Eisenhower to the Federal Renegotiation Board. The nomination still requires confirmation by the United States Senate.

A resident of Princeton since 1945, Mr. Ross is presently serving on the New York Regional Renegotiation Board. Before his nomination comes before the Senate, Mr. Ross will appear before the Senate Finance Comittee Library Discussion Set. Princeton Theological Seminary's reasons for planning to build a new library on what it calls "the traditional library plot" will be discussed at a public meeting to be held this Thursday night at 8:15 in the Campus Center auditorium. The building is on the seminary campus, with a large parking lot near the Springdale Golf Club.

President John A. Mackay will explain the Seminary's need for its projected Speer Memorial Library estimated to cost $1,500,000 and earmarked for the site on which historic Lenox Hall has stood for the past 110 years. He will report on the Seminary's search for a suitable site, and outline the reasons that have led to the trustees' decision to select the land on which Lenox Hall stands on Library Place between Mercer and Stockton Streets.

Dr. Mackay will present illustrations on a large screen to develop a number of the points he will make. The meeting will be presided over by Dr. Eugene C. Blake, chairman of a special committee of the seminary trustees. An alumnus of both Princeton University and the Seminary, Dr. Blake is President of the National Council of Churches and a member of the executive committee of the World Council of Churches.

The meeting will climax discussions that began 18 months ago over the possibility of preserving Lenox Hall, considered to

An Open Letter

Princeton Borough Merchants
Princeton, New Jersey

Gentlemen:

Congratulations on your "Silver Dollar" weekend. It shows cooperation among you as a group. More important, it adds incentive and encouragement to the residents of Princeton to make their purchases locally.

The American way is for people to do as they please, and we as merchants must strive to be worthy of the patronage of all in the community, so that every Princetonian will first look to Princeton Merchants. With this spirit those few residents who go out of the community looking for bargains will soon find it does not pay.

Princeton is an interesting place and that is the reason most of us selected it as our community to live in and enjoy it's charms. May we as Princeton Merchants continue to strive to make our stores and shops as sought after daily as the community of Princeton.

Sincerely

F. A. SHELTON, President

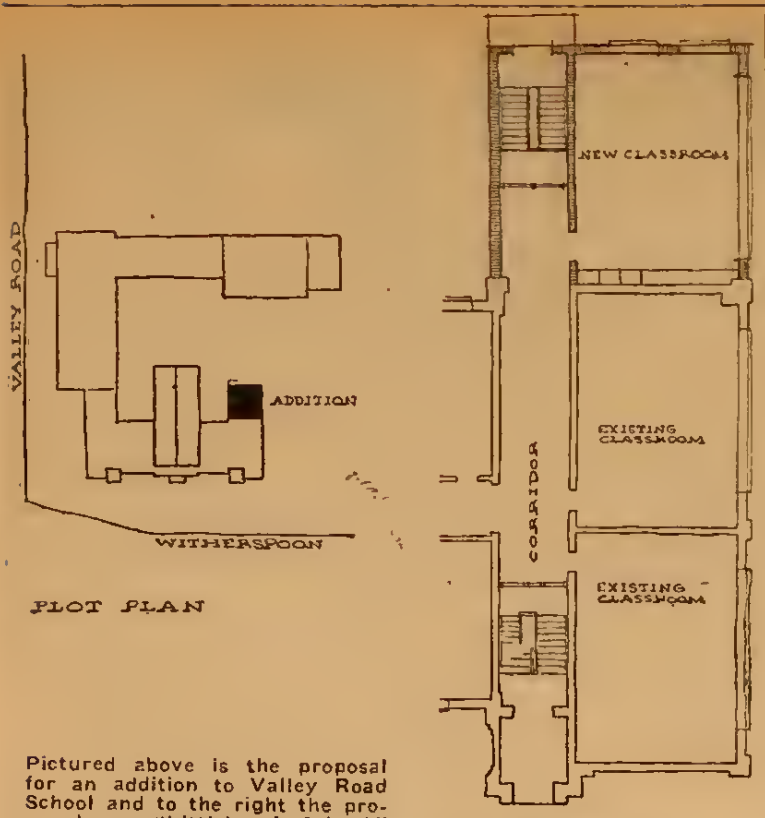
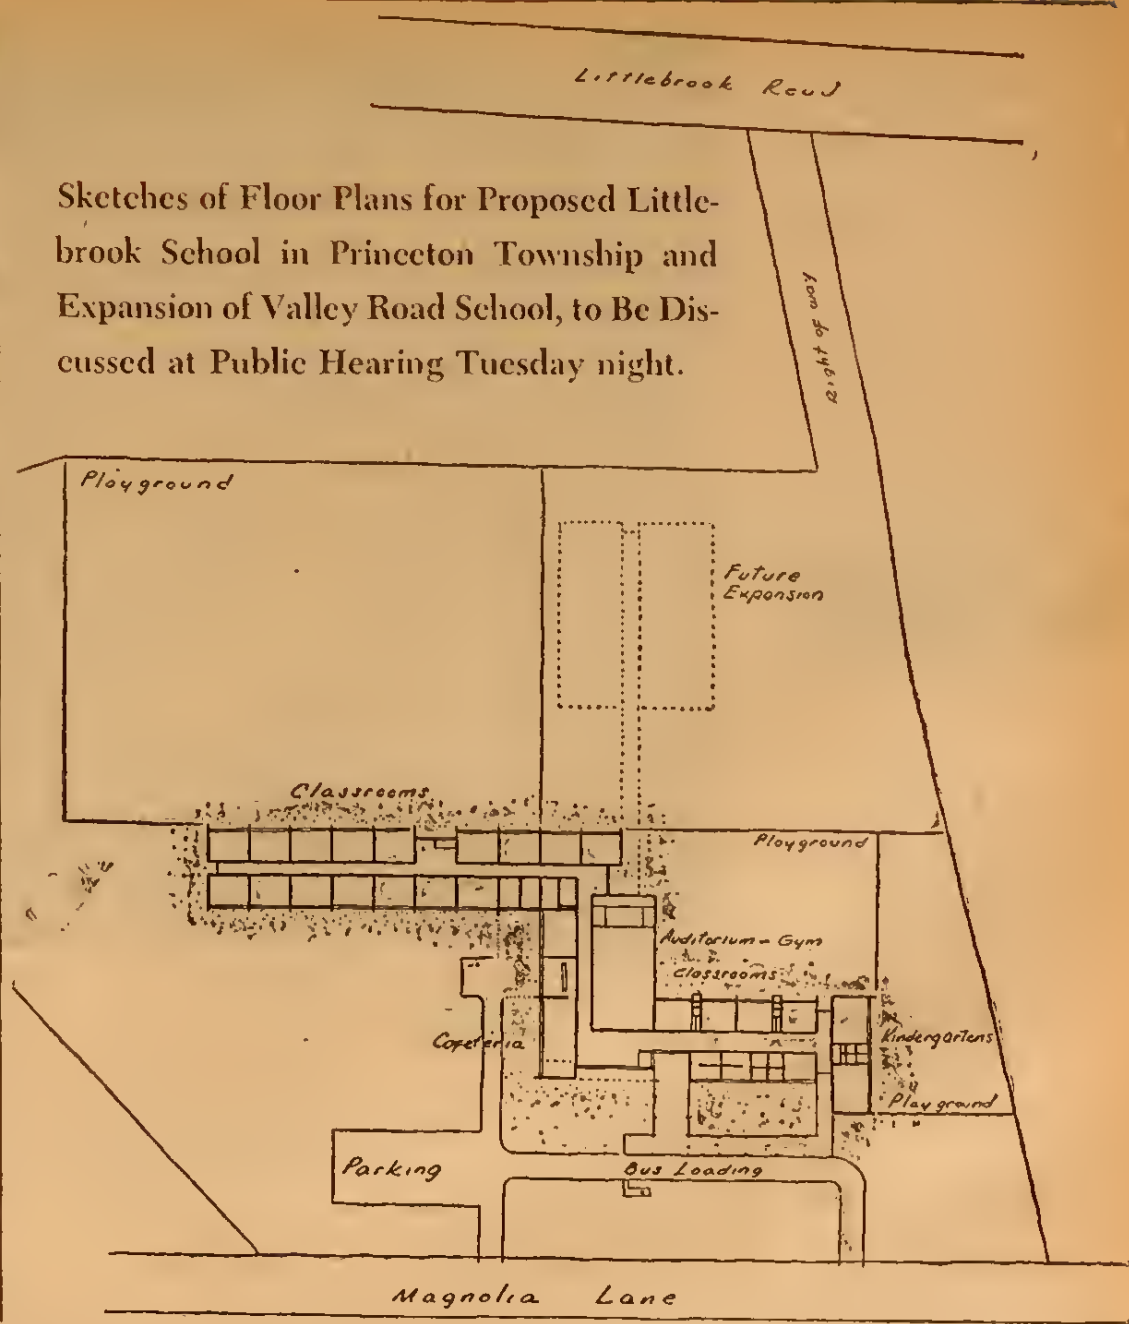
Sketches of Floor Plans for Proposed Littlebrook School in Princeton Township and Expansion of Valley Road School, to Be Discussed at Public Hearing Tuesday night.





Pictured above is the proposal for an addition to Valley Road School and to the right the proposed new "Littlebrook School." Both have been drawn by Fulmer and Bowers, architects. The Valley Road addition (in black) would add two needed classrooms, one on the main floor and a similar one on the basement level. The Littlebrook plans allow for best use of the 13-acre site for a school of kindergarten through fifth grade, but allowing room for possible future expansion. In the architects' drawings the school is placed on the Northwest side of the plot with driveway access from Magnolia Lane, a projected new street bordering the property on the northwest side. Additional access for walkers will be provided over the existing right of way from Littlebrook Road.

The building is planned with a central core and two wings. The central core includes a cafeteria, boiler room, an "all purpose" room, and an entrance lobby, all convenient to the driveway. The "all purpose" room opens on the main play area. The cafeteria will have a library section at one end which will serve also as a conference room. The central core will separate the younger children in the south wing from the older children in the north wing. The south wing will hold the administrative offices as well as two kindergarten rooms and four first grade rooms. There is a kindergarten playground directly outside this section, separated from adjacent property by a dense helge of trees. The north wing holds the remainder of the classrooms. An existing open area to the east of this wing is suitable for a large playground, and is separated by a dense hedgerow from the rear properties on Littlebrook Road.

be an unusual period piece of architecture. A number of residents of the community have been hopeful that it may be saved; still pending is the Seminary's request to the borough council for an "easement of air and light" which would permit construction of the Speer Library and presumably doom Lenox Hall.

Engstrom, executive vice president for research and engineer of RCA, will deliver the address at the annual closing exercises of the Columbus Boychoir School this Saturday at 10:30 a. m. on the lawn of "Albemarle", the school's home on Rosedale Road. Dr. Engstrom will discuss the inter-relation between the fields of music and electronic development and the way in which each has contributed to the other's rapid growth in the past decade.

The exercises are open to the public; the members of the school for boys of musical talent between the ages of 9 and 15 will sing several selections. A feature of the exercises will be the formal dedication of "Albemarle", which the school has acquired as its permanent home.

Dr. Charles R. Erdman, president of the board of trustees, will conduct the brief dedication and the full Boychoir will sing Malotte's "Lord's Prayer". The Boychoir will also sing three madrigals, "Sing We and Chant It", "The Silver Swan" and "Fire, Fire My Heart". The three theory classes will sing original graces composed by the students.

Herbert Huffman, founder the director of the school, will preside and introduce the guests. The Rev. Herbert Ingraham, school chaplain, will give the invocation. Members of the board of trustees wil present the traditional school awards, while Glenn E. Scott, assistant director of the school for six years will make the first presentation of a new award he has donated, the Citizenship Plaque.

Lawrenceville Topics

Youth Center Grows. The addition of a youth director to the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church staff is another sign of the growing community significance of the new Youth Center.

The new director, Paul McKowen, assumed his duties last month, filling a need in co-ordinating and planning since in March alone the building served for more than 2,500 visits by Lawrenceville residents. Mr. McKowen is at Princeton Theological Seminary.

The center is used by children numbering up to 200 in Brownie, Cub, Boy and Girl scouting activities as well as the YMCA. It is the feeling of the Rev. Allen Kimble, pastor of the church, that the center has drawn in Lawrence children who were formerly oriented towards Princeton or Trenton.

Fund-raising to equip the kitchen is now going on under the leadership of church women. The goal is some $5,000, being raised by rummage sales, auctions and many other activities. The original $100,000 for the building was raised as a church project.

The modern addition to the 257-year-old church provides a 50x80 gym for basketball, volleyball, ping pong, shuffleboard and other games, along with the kitchen, seven Sunday School rooms and two choir rooms. Modern folding partitioning allows for larger rooms when needed.

The church has a membership of 473, with 250 children in the Sunday School. With its new facilities the church now has ample, pleasant surroundings for fellowship meetings, square dances and other fetes.

Schools Drawing to Close. Dr. Allan V. Heeley, headmaster of the Lawrenceville School, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon this Sunday at 11 in the school chapel. His remarks to the graduating class will be the first of the series of events marking the close of school in Lawrenceville.

Class Day for the seniors will be held next Friday afternoon, while the graduation exercises will be held the following morning. Further details will be carried here next week.

In the public schools, the only formal exercises will be those at Lawrence Junior High for the ninth grade on Tuesday, June 14. Prizes and certificates will be awarded at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Class Day for the ninth graders is scheduled for next Thursday, June 9, from 12:45 to 3:15, with the following day as the rain date. School picnics are being planned for the elementary schools.

Courts and Links Open. Lawrenceville School's golf course and tennis courts will again be made available for use by residents of Lawrence Township this summer from June 15 to September 15. Township residents will receive preference in their applications through July 1.

Full information on fees and hours will be carried here next week. The passes are under the charge of Leslie T. Fagan at the Business Office.

Bake Sale. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Lawrenceville Fire Company will hold a bake sale this Saturday starting at 10 a.m. at the Lawrence Shop. Proceeds will go towards the purchase of new equipment for the kitchen in the firehouse, currently undergoing expansion and renovation.

Rabies Clinic. More than 500 Lawrence Township dogs are the object of the annual municipal rabies clinic scheduled for next week.

Inoculations will be given by Dr. Russell S. Edmonds and Dr. Maurice J. Smith of the Lawrence Animal Hospital from 4 to 6 p.m. on two days each at the Lawrenceville, Lawrence Road and Slackwood firehouses.

The line, which maintains 14 DC-3's and four Martin "Executives," has completed more than 100 million miles of travel in the past six years without a serious accident. A flow of about 1,000 passengers every 30 days is anticipated when the airport reaches its standard operating schedule.

University and a veteran of New York shows; Peter Cook, well-known portrait painter; and Theodora Waldron, whose work was shown at the Four Directions Gallery last winter. Others are Dudley Morris, chairman of the Art Department at the Lawrenceville School; Allan Barr, a member of the Royal Canadian Academy; Carol Stoddard, Iroa Seitz, Helen deForest Lee, Huseyin Halit, Rex Goreleigh, Robert Perrine, Betty Adams, Ann Garson, George Schmidt and Mical O'Maher.

A trio of painters who have been successful in the commercial field will be represented: Michael Ramus, Peter Lauck and John Fischer. Watercolors by Elsa Frankl, Eleanor Muller, Elsa Ladenburg and a monotype-pastel by Gwynneth Brown complete the group of pictures.

Sculptures will be shown by Margot Einstein, daughter of the late Dr. Albert Einstein; Joseph Brown, whose one-man shows have been widely acclaimed in this section of the country; Dorothea Greenbaum, whose work has been in New York galleries for the past 30 years; and Janet Rogers, another well-known sculptress. The exhibit will be completed by a mobile credited to James Davis, whose abstract motion pictures on refracted light have won a number of awards.

Help for the Blind. The Princeton Lions Club is seeking funds to aid in its sight conservation program, of which Edward V. Baldwin is chairmon. The club has underwritten the cost of equipment in the Eye Clinic at Princeton Hospital, and last year assumed financial responsibility for more than 50 persons treated at the clinic.

Some $400 was provided to meet the cost of repairing and fitting new glasses, with Dr. Henry Abrams, a member of the club, contributing his time without cost to the patient. A majority of those aided were certified by the public schools and would not otherwise have been able to receive the necessary care.

Summer School Moves. The seventh consecutive annual session of the Princeton Summer School will be held this year at the Quarry Street School, due to construction and renovation of the high school building.

The school will open June 27 and continue through August 6. Registration is scheduled for June 20-24 at the high school building. H. Lee McConahy and Harry W. Zoll will serve as co-directors of the session.

As in the past, the summer school is operated independently of the public school system, but with the approval of the board of education. A fee of $35 per course will be required to cover costs of the program.

Courses will again be offered on both high school and elementary school levels. The faculty will include Joseph L. Pierson, social studies; Frank M. Soda, foreign and classical languages; Morrill F. Shepherd, algebra and geometry; Mr. Zoll, sciences, and Mr. McConahy, English.

Typing and shorthand will be open to beginners, but all other courses will be offered for review purposes and to remove deficiencies. Courses on the high school level will be offered on all subjects for which there is sufficient demand. The elementary courses will consist of remedial reading and basic arithmetic for grades five to eight.

News of the Theatres

Summer Recess. Summer entertainment will be harder to come by than usual in Princeton this year. The Garden will again shut down after the big June flurry of activities, while Murray and McCarter theatres will also be dark.

The decision of the University Players to skip this year in favor of a bigger, better-organized 1956 season is a hard blow for theatre faithful here, and in addition the prospect of an eventual summer season in McCarter still seems highly remote.

The McCarter has been unusually peaceful for the past two months, following the comparatively active winter. It is still maintained, however, that year-'round operation is its goal.

Nevertheless, those seeking stage entertainment this summer will have to travel, down to adjoining New Hope and Lambertville, or elsewhere on the straw-hat circuit.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

"Picnic" Production Provocative. The Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope is offering a good opportunity to study William Inge's hit drama, "Picnic" with a strong production now on the barn boards for a total run of two weeks.

Interest has run high in the Bucks offering and tickets are hard to come by. Except for a few seats toward the end of next week, the performances are sold out and the show will apparently establish an all-time record gross.

The Playhouse management frankly admits that it abandoned its box office-oriented "star system" to insure the best casting for "Picnic" and the net effect is remarkably good group playing.

With the important exception of James Perkins as Hal Carter, judicious quibbling might find some fault with a fair number of the roles, but it isn't worth the effort.

Mr. Perkins was outstanding, dominating the stage whenever present. Next in order of effectiveness were Nancy Marchand (as Rosemary), William LeMassena (Howard), Sally Gracie (Madge), Claire Kirby (Millie), Winifred Cushing, Margaret Mullen and Robert Longley. Miss Gracie's performance in a major role seemed to lack something of originality or vitality on opening night.

Altogether, the production aided in feeling the drama. It had a fine Broderick Hackett set and careful direction (though the pace chosen to convey the play's mood seemed a bit leisurely).

This department will take "Picnic" over Mr. Inge's other popular hits "Come Back, Little Sheba" and "Bus Stop" any day. It is his best presentation of lonely frustrated average people leading blind, average, unhappy lives.

However, it's the feeling here that Mr. Inge is either a first-rate craftsman of the theatre and a second-rate thinker, or else that his ironic dramas are tinged with sentimentality. Something is missing and his raw male protagonists don't fill the bill.

Mr. Inge is well attuned to his people, though, and a skillful dramatist with humor. The strength of "Picnic" is considerable and well-worth a trip to see it in its first and only summer production.

MUSIC CIRCUS

A new version of Franz Lehar's "The Merry Widow" launches St. John Terrell's seventh season of the Music Circus in Lambertville this Saturday evening. The show, which has been revamped by Edward Eager, began the style-setting tent arena theatre summer entertainment in 1949.

The cast will include Victoria Sherry as the widow; Mitchell Gregg as the prince, and Dorothy Coulter, Donald Clarke, Stanley

Bucks' Children's Shows

Next Thursday the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope will inaugurate its special summer program for children. The first offering will be "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp", presented by the Suzari Marionettes.

Three additional productions for children are planned for the coming season, with producer Michael Ellis working once again to build youthful experience in the theatre.

Tickets are 50 cents for the 2 and 4:30 p.m. performances next Thursday. A year ago, the Suzari Marionettes under Dorothy Zaconick and Ruth Waxman presented "Hansel and Gretel" for Bucks County.

Carlson, Fred Harper and Lulu Bates. Bertram Yarborough is making his debut as director, Duncan Noble as choreographer and Donn Fischer as decorographer. Oscar Kosrin is the musical director.

Other "firsts" scheduled by Mr. Terrell this season include "Tonight We Sing" with music by Irving Berlin; the American premiere of Noel Coward's "After the Ball"; the first production of Jerome Kern's and Oscar Hammerstein's "Sweet Adeline" since its Broadway run 25 years ago, the first local presentation of "The Golden Apple" and the only summer theatre production of the recent Broadway hit, "Kismet".

The seventh season is the longest in history for the Music Circus. Pre-opening showings have been conducted this week, and a special week for theatre parties is planned for September 26-October 1.

Music Notes. Twelve students of Donald T. Bryant, musical director of the Columbus Boychoir School and head of the theory and piano departments, will give a recital this Friday evening at 7:45 p.m. in the Westminster Choir College Playhouse.

The program will include sonatinas by Clementi, sonatas by Mozart and Beethoven, and the C major Concerto of Mozart. The public is invited without charge.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Strategic Air Command (June 1-7) brings a superb photographic job (in fine Technicolor) to the big bombers of the Air Force and the current doctrine of strategic bombing. The spectacular shots of the planes (and even good studio-made interior shots) compete for interest with the plot centering around James Stewart as a professional ball player recalled to active duty, and his wife, June Allyson, Frank Lovejoy plays the real life role of Gen. Curtis LeMay. Here for a week.

Interrupted Melody (June 8-11) is a popularized life of the Met opera star Marjorie Lawrence. The film is made with skill, color and an emotional approach. Included are many excerpts from opera and popular song, all of Miss Lawrence. Rutherford leads the them well done. The stars of the film are Eleanor Parker and Glenn Ford.

THE GARDEN

Violent Saturday (June 1-4) tells how a bank holdup affects the lives of 10 private citizens. Though the classification "adult" for the treatment of violence and sex in the film is dubious, these matters are at least consistent with the action and characters portrayed. The large effective cast includes Victor Mature, Richard Egan, Stephen McNally, Virginia Leith, Tommy Noonan, J. Carroll Naish and others.

Castle in the Air (June 6-8) has the new British idea of spreading over farce, burlesque, satire and general comedy all in one film, way with an expert job as a wacky roomer in the Earl of Something's castle. David Tomlinson, Helen Cherry and others assist in the fun.

The Eternal Sea (June 9-11) is a service picture filmed in low key, and hence a more than routine story. In addition it's about the USS Princeton and its wartime commander, who was seriously wounded when the ship went down in the Philippines, and returned to his command. Not a great show, but a strong one about a simple hero.

Princeton Smith College Club scholarship, marking the first double presentation of the award, Miss Peter M. Mills announced the selections at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Peter Cook, Kingston.

The girls stand second and third respectively, in their class and are active in extra-curricular affairs. Miss Burrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burrill of Battle Road, spent last summer as an AFS exchange student in Germany, while Miss Van Zandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Zandt of Blawenburg, will spend this summer in Holland as a student in the Experiment in International Living.

At the same meeting, Miss Eva M. Weber was elected vice-president and Mrs. Michael G. Webster secretary, both for two-year terms. Mrs. Shepherd Kimberly II continues as President, with Mrs. Frederick Kasweiler as treasurer.

Bed Rock Community Economics. A report on the fundamental importance of local business in the Borough was made public this week, one that is likely to have significant impact on the thinking of citizens and governing officers throughout the community.

The work is "A Study of the Central Business District", a 63-page document prepared for the Borough Planning Board by Herbert H. Smith, director, and Martin J. Rody, assistant director, of Community Planning Associates headquartered here.

While the report deals with the existing central business district (CBD) from the Borough's point of view, the fact of dual municipalities within Princeton is bound to come to the fore once again in discussion of its findings.

The study emphasizes the need for a strong busines district to support the tax base, so that it seems inevitable that Borough and Township will be mulling over the economic rivalry between the business area at the center of Princeton and the new shopping center.

The introduction to the study points out, "Very few people realize that if it were not for the Central Business District, their tax rate would be considerable higher. Also, few individuals realize that by patronizing the local shopping center they are strengthening it and strengthening the tax base of the community.

"The strengthening of its tax base is one of the prime concerns of the Borough. Throughout the country the central shopping centers in most large cities are deteriorating economically as a result of decentralization. Although Princeton is not large enough to support much decentralization, the same forces are operative in Princeton as in the larger communities.

"One attempt at decentralization in the Princeton area has occurred—the Township Shopping Center. Whether this venture is successful is yet unproved. Nevertheless the attempt is indicative of the fact that the CBD of Princeton was lacking in certain basic needs; otherwise this newly constructed center could have located in Princeton. If not the entire center, certainly a majority of the stores could have located in the Borough."

The study considers in detail matters such as theoretical business district composition, shopper preferences, actual land use in the Borough's business zones and other matters of specialized interest.

A major emphasis is placed on the adoption of a definite program to strengthen the CBD, and in its conclusions, the report suggests that something like a "Central Business District Conservation Program" be organized.

Business and Taxes. Figures for 1953 quoted in the study show that taxes paid by the CBD amounted to $214,688, while the area received some $125,000 in municipal services. Thus the CBD is subsidizing other taxpayers with about 40% of its tax money.

The total commercial tax levy is expected to stabilize at about 23% of the Borough's tax revenue. The report urges concerted efforts by the Borough, citizens and merchants to keep the CBD healthy in order to insure maximum tax revenue from areas in commercial use and for "stabilized economic structure" in the community.

Parking: Again. The sharp problem of parking in the CBD is treated in the report, with the need for more off-street parking once again pointed out. Among the facts cited:

Registration of motor vehicles increased at a rate of 22.3% between 1950 and 1954 . . . "By 1965 at least 15% more vehicles will be located in this area". . . About a third of off-street parking spaces normally required for a business district are now available . . ." It appears that parking in the CBD is now at about its maximum capacity."

The report urges immediate further study of the parking question. The policies of limiting business-zoned property expressed in the current Master Plan for the Borough are re-affirmed, with the notations that existing areas should be improved and concentrated.

Other conclusions: new construction in the central area should be encouraged and decentralization discouraged; a program to discourage through traffic, particularly trucks, should be furthered, steps should be initiated for redevelopment in the John Street area.

In suggesting a program for conservation and rehabilitation, the survey asserts: "Although the CBD, at the present, appears to be in a relatively sound position . . . congestion, obsolesences and deterioration could easily affect (it) adversely within the next decade."

Widespread consideration of the information in the study is also urged. Copies are available at the Borough Engineer's office in Borough Hall.

Ninth Straight Title for PHS. Princeton High School's undefeated track team will go after its fifth straight State Group III title Saturday in the Rutgers University Stadium in New Brunswick. Although tied by Lawrenceville earlier this spring, the Blue and White has not been beaten in 50 dual meets over a nine-year period.

Last weekend was marked by another triumph: victory by a comfortable margin in the Central Jersey Championships at Asbury Park. Win Niles, in his first year as varsity coach, saw the Little Tigers take the title for the ninth straight season as they compiled 57½ points to 44½ for Manasquan and North Plainfield, with five other schools trailing.

Carl Brown was the individual star of the meet, winning three first places and setting a record for Central Jersey competition in the high hurdles. He was clocked in 14.8 seconds, also winning the low hurdles and the high jump.

Gerry Cortelyou took the half-mile in 2:05.2 and Win Niles, Jr. tied for first place in the pole vault at 11 feet. Showing unusually fine balance, Princeton High scored in every event except the shot put, overcoming an early lead that Manasquan built up to win in comfortable fashion.

The State Championships figure to be extremely close, with Niles hopeful that his team's balance will carry it through. Toughest competition will come from North Plainfield, which is strong in the weights; Tenafly, equipped with some topflight runners; Woodbury and Englewood, both of which feature the balance that has carried PHS through in previous years.

Dual meet victories this season have been scored over Trenton High, Hamilton, Long Branch and Somerville, with Lawrenceville tied at 58 points apiece. The last defeat was sustained in 1947.

Davis Wins Eighth. A seven-run first inning enabled The Hun School team to break a 12-game winning streak amassed by Delbarton School of Morristown in the Red and Black's final game of the season. The triumph raised Hun's 1955 record to 10 and 4.

Bruce Davis was the winning pitcher, scattering seven hits and striking out six. He compiled a fine 8-2 mark over the season.

Hun added two in the third to take a 9-0 lead before the visitors pushed across single runs in the fourth and fifth. The Red and Black was credited with a dozen hits as it brought its most successful baseball season in several years to a close.

Sunbeams on Top. The Sunbeams maintained their winning ways last week in the Community Softball League, hammering out a 15-6 triumph over RCA to raise their season's mark to 3-0. Jim Kahny, the winning pitcher, aided the merry-go-round with a home run off his brother, Harry Kahny, RCA hurler. George Bocconfuso and Tom Pancoast also hit for the circuit.

Another pitcher, Paul Parisott of the Eagles, hit a home run but in vain as his team lost to Applied Science, 6-3. Ray Poynter was the winning moundsman, holding the Eagles to seven hits while his mates collected a dozen safe blows and led all the way.

The Nassau Social Club was dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten by the Jokers as Sam Nini bested Huck McCreedy, 3-2. The winning run scored on an outfield error.

Artistic Clippers were the week's other victors as they trimmed Frazee's, 4-2, with Doug Watson the winner. The Clippers were out hit, 8-6, but a three-run first inning provided the margin they needed.

As the week began, the Sunbeams stood on top with a 3-0 —Continued on Page 23

One Hit, 11 Runs

Princeton High School closed out its baseball season by scoring one of its most unusual victories: the Little Tigers were held to one hit by Somerville but won, 11 to 8. In a 10-run fifth inning, Coach Morrill Shepard's team took advantage of eight walks, a passed ball and two errors to clinch the decision, weighing in with its lone safety—a triple by winning pitcher Harold Phox.

The losers meanwhile were collecting 13 hits but still fell short in the run column. The victory, coupled with a 5-3 triumph earlier in the week over North Plainfield, gave the Blue and White a 5-7 record for the season. Phox was the winner in that game, too, with Bill Rodefeld, Bob Flaherty and Lee Ammerman pacing the attack.

ALMOST: Dick Emery pitched 7⅔ innings against Fordham Saturday before giving up a hit.

DANGER

There's danger lurking in that old, discarded ice box or refrigerator that you may have in your back yard.

Every year children die from suffocation because they love to play in these dangerous cabinets. Here's what you should do if you see a discarded box in your neighborhood or in the junk yard:

Remove the door. It's the best way to make such a cabinet safe.

Remove the latch on the door by taking out the screws on the door plate.

Drill holes in the door and remove the rubber gasket.

OR

Tell the policeman in your neighborhood about this dangerous menace.

Tigers Get Fine Pitching. As it heads for its second game with Yale this season at New Haven on Saturday, Princeton's baseball team has a clear idea of how good it might have been this spring had it backed its fine pitching with good fielding and hitting. During the month of May, for example, Dick Emery, Jim Gibson and Leigh Ford yielded just 16 runs in seven games, and only six of these were earned. That's a combined earned run average of a near-incredible .54.

Poor fielding (four infield errors, two in one inning) probably cost Emery a no-hit game against Fordham Saturday, but the senior right-hander did get good support at the plate as he hurled a fine 7-2 triumph over the Rams. With a 14-3 record on the line, the New Yorkers were going on the assumption that a victory over Princeton would assure them of a berth in the Division II NCAA playoffs this weekend. The loss cost them the invitation.

Emery had set the visitors down without anything resembling a hit until two were out in the eighth. Clean-up batter Jack Pennachia would never have been at the plate had it not been for a pair of misplays by third baseman Hank Thomay. The slow roller over second was fielded cleanly by shortstop Jim Perkins but by the time he had come up with it, there was no chance for a play.

Ed Mcalillan's three singles in his first three times at bat scored Royce Flippin each time, while Bill Agnew collected a single and a long double that were also good for three runs batted in. The one-hitter followed a similar performance at Ithaca by Jim Gibson, with the latter picked to hurl against the Elis this Saturday.

Gibson, incidentally, is the Ivy League's most effective pitcher for the 1955 season. He was credited with a 1.03 earned run average in 35 innings, just one one-hundredth of a point better than Yale's able sophomore, Roy Carlsen.

Gibson struck out 27 and walked only four in league-action. Leigh Ford's earned run average of 1.56 was good for sixth place in the pitchers' rankings.

Markisohn and Myers Place. Captain-elect Gabe Markisohn placed second in the 220-yard dash in the IC4-A championships Saturday at Randoll's Island, N. Y. The event was won in 20.8 by Penn State's Art Pollard.

Captain Joe Myers was third in the 440 to give the Tigers seven points and a ninth-place tie in the team standings. The time of 47.2 in the quarter-mile was fast but no record; six other marks were broken and one was tied as Manhattan took the title.

Tennis Dates Set. The dates for the annual community tennis tournaments, officially known as the Red Feather Community Championship Tournaments and sponsored by the Princeton Playgrounds Committee, have been announced for the middle of June through the latter part of July.

The junior boys' and girls' singles will start on June 15; men's singles on July 6; women's singles on July 11; men's doubles on July 18; and mixed doubles on July 27. All matches will be played on the Princeton University courts, with Richard Lanahan again serving as director.

Entries will be received at the Princeton Y.M.C.A. or may be submitted to a member of the tennis committee, which includes Michael C. Kopliner, Sr., Dr. Paul R. Chesebro and A. Caryl Bigelow, Jr. An entry fee of 50 cents is required in the adult tournaments, and each contestant also must provide three new balls. There is no entry fee for juniors.

There will be two divisions in the boys tournament, 18 and under, and 15 and under. The winners will represent Princeton in the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce tournaments which will be held in Princeton this summer. The girls tournament will be for those 18 and under.

Scrap Metal Wanted. A drive to collect scrap metal of all kinds is the goal of the Lions Club to underwrite the cost of Lions' projects for the coming year. The drive starts now and will continue indefinitely.

Projects sponsored include egg hunts, a booth at the New Jersey State Fair, glasses for the blind and sight conservation, a Christmas Carol Sing and food baskets for the needy, among others. Those who have scrap metal are asked to call Ross Alger at 2515-J between 6 and 9 p.m., or Martin Mains at 0987 during the same hours. The scrap will be collected.

in the same color as the background: tan, grey, or blue.

Rayon has been woven with cotton to give greater summer comfort and greater sheen to a sports shirt that comes in pink, hello or pale blue. Won't wrinkle quite so much as the all-cotton ones. Plenty of checks, here at Lahey's, for the man who prefers them, and the favorite linen-like weaves, in pastels.

Skip-dent appears again in shorty pajamas for $3.50. Shorties also come in crinkle crepe ($3.95) that has been dressed up with bold bright green or blue lines crossed with black on the white. There are pastels too.

New ties at Lahey's are all darcron, with some interesting colors like maroon with grey in a plaid, a clear sunny blue striped with white or crossed with white bars. All are $1.50, and the perfect accent for a summer suit.

Swim trunks are cotton, nylon and rayon in plaids for $3.95, or solid all-nylons for $5.95. For dry land choose a Bermuda walking short by Arrow in a linen-like charcoal at $6.95. Regular length shorts start at $3.95 for the Arrow denims.

Dig a Clam . . . or push a pedal in new calf-length pants at The Joan Shop, 63 Palmer Square West. They are aqua cotton cord with the rib running around the leg. Overblouse is loose and full, with a high straight neck in front and a low square neck in back. Made of white and aqua stripes. Another set has Bermuda shorts and a battle jacket — same aqua and white combination.

Black pedal pushers have a gold tunic top with wide cowl neck. The price is $9.95. Fine cotton cord Bermudas have a matching shirt with six inches of vertical pleating in the back.

Non-iron cottons are a new wrinkle: these look smooth and slick as a freshly-ironed man's shirt. One is charcoal with a pink line of leaves and flowers, and how ties on the shoulders lined with the pink (or chartreuse). A beige dress has red and green flowers, and wide straps trimmed with olive green. A gentle wide-necked, short sleeved dress is flowers all over. There's a maroon floral print with shoestring straps and a sleeveless jacket with maroon bow—all these dresses need only to drip dry, and we point out again that they are not crinkly in appearance — smooth as the iron itself.

Night-gown sets are made of cotton in a curious pebby weave. There is a white duster for $10.95 trimmed in pink and appliqued roses between the front bottons. Matching it is a cotton full-length gown with nylon tricot straps over the shoulders. Price is $5.95. A shorty gown is made in yellow with bloomer briefs. There is a wide neck on the gown, edged with a ruffle of tricot that's been treated with some yellow dots. Set is $5.95.

Play girls will enjoy a set of shorts, skirt, and halter in bright turquoise cotton with white eyelet trim. There are very short shorts, or Bermudas. Another set, this one in melon pink, is a one-piece playsuit with wrap-around skirt and several rows of white stitching to set off the bright solid color. A black and white set, too — for a blonde with a tan.
